

RIVERSIDE SCIENTIFIC ORDER FORM

Licenses correspond to the number of computers you are permitted to install the program on. A site license allows you to install the programs on as many computers as you want within the same building. If you are a new customer and want to order one of the license quantities listed in the table below, place a check in each of the small boxes to the right of the program(s) and licenses desired. If you would like a quantity different from any of those listed, or if you are a current customer purchasing additional licenses or programs, please request a quote from sales@riversci.com. Then enter the quantity in the Quote column and the quoted price where requested below.
